THE GLOBE: The Official Paper of Congress. The Official Paper of Congress.

I PUBLISH now my annual Prospectus of The Daily Globe, and The Congressional Globe and Appendix, to remind subscribers, and inform these who may desire to subscribe, that Congress will meet on the first Monday of next December, when I shall resume publishing the above named papers. They have been published so long, that most public men know their character, and therefore I doem it meetless to give a minute account of the kind of matter they will contain.

The Daily Globe will contain a report of the Debates in both branches of Congress as taken down by reporters, equal, at least to any corps of short hand writers in this, or in any other country. A majority of them will, each, he able to report, werbatim, ten thousand words an hour, while the average number of words spoken by floent speakers rarely exceeds seven thousand five hundred words an hour. When the debates of a day do not exceed forty-dire columns, they will appear in the Daily Globe of the next morning, which will contain, also, the news of the day, together with such editorial articles as may be suggested by passing events.

The Congressional Globe, and Appendix will contain a tretogether with such editorial articles as may be suggested by passing events.

The Congressional Globe and Appendix will contain a report of all the Debates in Congress, revised by the speakers, the Messages of the President of the United States, the Annual Reports of the House of the Executive Departments, the Laws and passed during the session, and copious ludexes to all. They will be printed on a double royal sheet, in book form, royal quartizaise, each number containing sixteen pages. The whole will make, it is believed, at least 2,000 pages. This is acknowledged to be the cheapest work ever sold in any country, whether a reprint or printed from manuscript copy, taking for data the averse number of words it contains.

The coming session, will, without doubt, be unusually interesting, because the debates will, in a great measure, be upon the policy of the President elect, and the Globe will be, as it has been for many years past, the only source from which full debates of Congress can be obtained

The Congressional Globe and Appendix pass free through the mails of the United States, as will be seen by reading the following Joint Resolution passed by Congress the 6th of August, 1832.

Joint Resolution passed providing for the distribution of the Laws of Congress and the Debates thereon.

With a view to the cheap circulation of the laws of Congress and the debates contributing to the true interpretation thereof, and to make free the communication between the representative and to make free the communication between the representatives and constituent bodies:

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of United States of America in Compress assembled, That from and after the present session of Congress, the Congressional Globe and Appendix, which contains the laws and the dehates thereon, shall pass free through the mails so long as the same shall be published by order of Congress: Provided, That nothing herein shall be construed to authorize the circulation of the Daily Globe free of postage.

Approved, August 6, 1852. TERMS.
